

Mom's Newsletter...

Volume XVIII, No. 4, April 2004

"What Do May Flowers Bring?"

HURRICANE MAGGIE HITS FLORIDA COAST Janer Tattoo Big Hit With Locals, Kids Alike

(Florida Sun News) The first big hurricane of the season hit the gulf coast of Florida recently when the seventeen-year old Maggie Sears arrived for Spring Break.

"The first things I wanted to do," said the high school junior, "were to buy some cute shoes, shave most of my legs and get a tattoo of my Grandma Janer on my butt."

Within the first two days, all three were accomplished and Maggie had the rest of the vacation to concentrate on her secondary, far less important goals. This included reading some books for school, doing some college research, observing the local natural environment (e.g. getting a knock-out tan and chatting up the local boys) and "generally relaxing."

"The tan went well," stated the angel-faced junior at her press conference. "But the whole cute boy thing, I mean the college research thing, was very disappointing: let's just say that the pickings were a bit slim." When asked about the choice of Janer on her butt, the young woman said, "I miss my Grandma and the whole butt tattoo is a tribute to her. Also, I know she would have found the whole thing 'fascinating.'"

Due to her trend setting choice of butt art, hundreds of co-eds got on the trend by demanding Janer tattoos as well. "It was the craziest thing," said tattoo artist Danny Valentyn. "Once Maggie sported the picture, hundreds of girls came in and demanded the picture of 'Gluteus Janerus.' It was as if Britney Spears decided to do it." When asked if he saw the trend continuing, Danny said, "Oh, I don't know, but I have seen crazier things. All I know is Janer is going to college all over the country now."

Visit Mom's Newsletter online at: www.clydepark.com

BOB BARNETT BROADWAY BOUND?

Alliteration Aside, Bob Rocks as Evita

(Silver Bay) Bob Barnett announced at his recent 50th birthday celebration that he "was Broadway bound." Secretly rehearsing for several months, Bob will be opening with co-stars Madonna ("a good gal") and Antonio Banderas in early May on Broadway. "I have been working on this for several years," said the healer, "and I had to postpone the announcement a few weeks due to a sprained ankle suffered during the final dance rehearsal, but I am ready to go now."

Family members were stunned but supportive with patriarch Bob Barnett, Senior commenting, "Well, he was always considered the creative one in the family. He was doing the 'hand jive' when he was in fourth grade so I am not surprised."

Bob Barnett is...
EVITA

Madonna Antonio Banderas

Produced by Katherine Barnett, Directed by Margaret Sears. Starring John McGrory as "Mr. Cool," Bing Miller as "The Dude," and Myles McKee as "Sparky." The DVD is available at www.bongers.com. Listen to Silent H sing the soundtrack. All Rights Reserved.