

January 2003

MOM'S Newsletter

"If You Don't Laugh, You Cry"

Volume XVI, Number 1

Rice County Summit Convened; Lunch Served

Liz Demands Proof of Buns Before Accepting

Aunt Lorraine, sick and tired of lack of visitors, declared January 13th an official social summit for Liz, Ellen and Jeff. "It makes my ass tired that it has to be a wedding, funeral or parole hearing to see my relatives."

Under promise of a "decent meal," all of Janer's known children gathered dutifully at chez Miller for gossip mongering, finger pointing, theorizing and pontificating. "I came for the pie," said Jeff as he wiped his butter-soaked fingers on his shirt. "I enjoy the finger pointing but nothing beats the pie." Liz, drowsy from her constant sampling, smiled at Ellen and gave the ASL sign for "real gravy" and retired to the living room for a much-needed nap.

(Little) Billy Miller Named "2003's Sexiest Man Alive"

People Magazine Surprises All But LBM

In a surprise announcement, People Magazine named Gulf War veteran (Little) Billy Miller (now known, per his publicist, as "LBM") their annual "Sexiest Man Alive" for 2003, beating out Mel Gibson, Mike Dapper and Tom Cruise. "When you think about it, it was a good choice," said father Jack. "His looks, his way with women and his more "sensitive" side make a helluva package."

Embarking on an international goodwill tour, LBM thanked the little people and promised he would be back in the spring after several USO stops in Kuwait and Afghanistan because he "wanted to bring home one of those Taliban or Al-Quida babes just to drive Grandma nuts."

Miller Family Separated at Birth?

Jack Miller

Joanie Boysen

Florence Miller

Lorrie Lee-Beyl

John Miller

Burt Reynolds

Mary Martin

Minnie Driver

Kate Jackson

Clark Gable