NSA Agent Charles McGrory Wins Again

"Global Interrogator of the Year"

(Langley) AP "The boys upstairs are very happy with Agent Charles "Chaz" McGrory," said Public Relations Manager Dixean Drager-Clooney. "He won an unprecedented second 'Interrogator of the Year' demonstrating excellence in black ops interrogations." Every global covert organization nominates their most talented interrogator to compete for the title and Agent McGrory won yet again.

He perfected a style known in the spycraft trades as "double grinding" which has also been adapted by both the Israeli and Turkish secret service. "I have seen Agent McGrory ask a terrorist eighteen thousand times the same question without stopping," said colleague and leggy field operative Michele Lenz-Noll. "The subject was briefly stoic but began to crack when Charlie got to the thousandth 'what we do tomorrow?,' the subject gave up his entire terrorist network, his codebook and two hard drives that he stashed at his mother's house. "

"Charlie is a machine," said Israeli Spymaster Gary Lazarz. "We were over in Ankara for our holiday party and just for laughs, Chaz made the catering crew admit to two regional bombings and gave up a cook who spit in the tabbouleh bowl."

"What's Going On? Where Is Everybody?"

"Amy and I invented a new chin wash called "Stubble-Bubble™" said inventor-hobbyist Bill Miller. "It actually encourages beard growth in older, feminine-looking faces like mine."

"I started a Charm School for "recent" Iowa grads," gushed Katie Thompson. "My sister and god-sister both skipped required comportment classes so I believe I have a few target customers to go after."

"I am going on the road with 'Disney's Minions On Ice,'" said Canadian song and dance man, Jimmy "Jimmy" Mylrea. A long-time veteran of ice-based theatrical productions, Jimmy and the rest of the Minion troupe will be in Duluth all January.

"With Chicago now in the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame," said founding trombonist Steve Johnson, "the band is gigging in 2016." Come and see us at Zumbrotafest™, I will be the guy in the overall shorts. 25 or 6 to 4!"

"The looming arrival of my first grandchild has allowed me to announce an infant-adult diaper product line," said retired sky jockey Curt "Clip" Breeding. "It will allow both me and baby Jeffrey (name chosen for either girl/boy) to wear matching diapers."
