Little B.M. Drops Bombshell (and More) Will Leave for Bermuda "Right After Ice Fishing"

(AP) Iraqi war veteran "Little" Billy Miller (aka Little BM) shocked the locals at a hastily called news conference when he declared himself the "secret" father of recently deceased Anna Nicole Smith's daughter. Standing in front of the VFW, Little BM presented a picture which he stated, "will satisfy all questions to the contrary." After reporter asked when Little BM was planning on traveling to the island to pay his respects, Billy paused and said, "Right after ice fishing is over."

"The main focus will be for my client to be with his precious little girl as soon as he can fit it into his bus schedule," said his attorney, Gary Lazarz. "I can state with confidence that we won't need a formal DNA test in lieu of the 'striking' family resemblance."

"I used to date Annie when we were both in High School. We got together at my last trip down to Florida and as my cousins would say, "All kinds of things can happen in Florida."

An Extremely Obscure Inside Family Joke:

- What is this?
- Where was it displayed?
- Who created it?
- How did Don Smith get such a nice wife?
- Who owns it today?
- Who is in the picture?
- How was it created?
- Is Joanie really 50?
- What is on her head?

Long Time Readers Complain Of Lack of Coverage: Who Are These People?

(MNL) The MNL phones have been ringing off the hooks, operators have been quitting and the circulation department is threatened with over one thousand cancellations. The reason: a lack of pandering coverage to long-time and long term paid subscribers. Per the settlement, MNL is providing a summary of their primary (read: petty) grievances below:

Maggie Sears is tired of hearing stories about other people when she considers her pictures and exploits "a main reason" the newsletter is popular with both troops and correction officers.

The Ayre siblings write: "there are way too many stories about hippies and people from Kentucky. Get back to making fun of people we love. Like our Dad."

Jack Miller wants to know why the entire Guam twelve-part series was "dropped" after only after seven articles. They "smelled of Pulitzer potential!"

Mike Dapper wants stories about his old ex-girlfriends including where they live, their schedules and closest police departments (and estimated response times)

Lorrie Beyl's favorite Vizla "Lohrmann" writes "we need more pictures Stan, a full page photo of Sparky Lou and stories about cheese." Lorrie has neither confirmed the validity of the request or the letter's signature.
