

Mom's Newsletter

November 2014

"Never Meet Your Heroes"

Volume 27, Number 9

Ellen, Liz (Re) Bury Hatchett

(Ramsey) Motivated by the recent European trip of their cousins Judy and Joanie, Liz and Ellen got into the sisterly reconciliation business themselves when collaborating on a shared "maintenance project." Tipped off by an old friend in the FBI (Thanks, Colin!) of an impending raid by the Feds, they quickly headed down to Rice County and removed the decomposed body of mob informant Gerald "Wiggles" Hatchett, one of their mother's last hits prior to her passing. "Mom was doing a lot of wet work for the Gambino family in her final years," waxed Ellen, "and when our Fed friends told us that the heat was headed to Rice County, I called my favorite sister up for some old timey gardening work, because that is what Mom would have wanted." The two sisters made a quick run to Bell Field and exhumed the individual (read: evidence) and then to Ellen's garden for "safekeeping."

"Mom had him under the visitor's dugout," smiled Liz, "but an hour with the trusty backhoe, we were back in the car, heading north until we stopped at the Black Steer on Highway 19 to avoid the federal dragnet and because both of us had to pee."

The sisterly duo are not amateurs when dealing with family business clean-up issues. "I remember in the late 1970's when Jack, Joanie and Judy were running a money-laundering scheme in Guam and ran into some locals that needed some convincing," mused Ellen. "We went for a visit and busted a few coconuts and things started moving again. East, West....."

Mid-Term Elections Rock MNL Power Structure: Who is the Front-Runner in 2016?

Poll watchers are surprised at the mid-term elections results where trends of removing established MNL power bases continues: :

OUT: The Mike Dapper coalition was voted out of the St. Paul region, garnering 5% of the vote, mainly from Stillwater Prison.

IN: Thanks to excessively heavy voting in the St. Joseph's area, Alec Noll's "Sailor Suit" party swept the central region.

OUT: Michigan City's Kevin Thar was ousted by Dave Burrows in a campaign fight that Kevin stated "smells very odd."

IN: Dixie Drager-Clooney was re-elected as the Minneapolis region due to cuteness.

What's Our Family's Thanksgiving Tradition?

The Making Our Own Gravy Challenge 23%

Lorrie Beyl's Dark Meat Taunt 18%

"Batcheldering" the Yams 13%

Giblet Wrestling 12%

Billy Miller's "Guess What I Just Killed Casserole" Quiz 15%

Barb Boldt Stuffing Sculpture Contest 19%

