

Mom's Newsletter

October 2007

"A Root Beer Float Would Sure Hit The Spot"

Volume 20, Number 8

Jenny Ayre Captains Winning Team: Iowa Coeds Win Newsletter Scavenger Hunt

(New York) The Iowa Gal Pals, captained by Jenny Ayre, won the 2007 Mom's Newsletter Scavenger Hunt, narrowly beating out the Rice County Thunderbirds and the North Metro All Stars. Each team, armed with only a large thermos of coffee and a common list to acts to complete or property to acquire, criss-crossed the country to win the prestigious prize. After completing the rest of the list, Jenny Ayre with her Iowa teammates, Sarah Barnett and Maggie Sears, hopped on a plane to Miami and drove to the nearest golf course to acquire the last item: a picture of any teammate rubbing OJ Simpson's head right after he was released on bail (see photo at the right).

"I was worried when the Rice County Thunderbirds found the only known copy of the Jane Sears Cookbook," said the vivacious and energetic college senior. "That was a tough one to lose but we fought back when we found the Liz McGrory Jazzercise™ video and the Joanie Miller Boysen Chatty Cathy's Doll Collection."

The three top teams had separated quickly from other groups by the use of an effective combination of wisdom, luck and pluck. They easily found the trick questions and moved past them to save time. "Some of the items on the list were very obvious fakes," said North Metro All-Star captain Ellen McKee. "We all knew that 'pictures of all Tom Teske's contented prom dates' was a myth; just like Dave Noll's black book. We are sad to get the silver but have to give props to the Iowa Gals for doing such a great job with OJ... but we'll see them next year."

Rice County Jottings... Little Billy Miller Still Fooling Women

- Little Billy Miller continues to confound experts by actually having an actual social life. "I want to state for the record," said Little BM, "that a vast majority of my dates, well over eighty percent, are not interested in my ability to grant them citizenship."
- Cindi Ramm opened a Mom's Newsletter office in Louisville. "Now as a resident of Kentucky, I have learned three things: dogs love cheese, I love gravy and my hillbilly neighbors can't enough information about Mom's Newsletter."
- Gary Gilbertson has admitted to using his AARP discount card. "I kept thinking I was too young but I got a good look at Don Smith and decided I was just kidding myself. And when the wives go to the casino, Don and I have an early dinner at a restaurant where we can get our steaks cut for us."
- Grandmother Lorrie Beyl has contacted the MNL news staff to complain about her picture in the last edition. "People have been pointing out a striking resemblance to the Queen. However, we are not amused."
- The area surrounding the Lake Harriet and Lake Calhoun neighborhoods was recently named the "Neighborhood with the Most Hippest and Best-Looking Gals in the Entire World" by Mini-Database Magazine based out of Eagan, Minnesota. Congratulations!

Who Are We Rooting For?

Rest in Peace

Bailey Boysen (2005-2007)
Lily Ayre (1994-2007)

